Two-way satellite messaging

Satway Pro is a mobile satellite service that integrates two-way text & voice messages and geolocation anywhere on the planet. It connects your satellite phone in remote areas to your loved ones via an app. Available for IOS and Android.

Voice messages

Do you need to send a lot of information in a single message, avoiding the 160-character text message limit? Don't worry: make a call and record a message. Your guest users will then receive your voice message.

Public & Private

2 possibilities when writing a message:

Public: all messages from a contact or users will be visible for the whole group.

Private: all messages sent to the contact will not be visible to other users.

Unique Identification Feature

One unique +alias for you. This feature makes it possible to reach you by other satellite contacts or users not invited without knowing your voice number or registered name. The alias is confidential except for your group chat users.

Geolocation

Simply send a message with your GPS position coordinates; your guest users will receive the position with a map icon. If they select the GPS icon, the date and time received will appear in UTC format.

Group chats (1-10)

Invite your loved ones, friends and colleagues when you are away. Communicate with all of them at once with one simple message. All your group users will be able to respond and follow your conversations free.

Satellite to Satellite

The service allows you to send a direct text message if necessary to other satellite contacts without knowing the satellite phone number. Introduce the +alias of the contact into the body of the message and send; our server will deliver it.

Twitter & Facebook

Integration of social media channels for subscribers wanting the option to connect their Twitter or Facebook accounts to the service. All text messages sent to Satway Pro number will be published automatically.
